

Excerpts from "Forgotten Men of The Prize Ring" by Guy Turpin ©1963

"Jack Shelton: San Antonio lightweight who fought from 1906 to 1916. Shelton was a clever boxer with a kyo punch and met such fighters as Tommy Devlin, Grover Hayes, Tommy Gary, Harry Trendall, Leo Kelly and others. Jack's promising career came to an end when he went overseas in World War I. After returning he became well known as a promoter."